Evening Services

Now that we've settled into the changed Sunday morning service times, at both St Martin's and St Paul's, it seems like a good time to take another look at the provision of services at other times during the week.

With our partnership with St Paul's, it's envisaged that - like with the wonderful coming together that happened for our Advent and Lent groups - these services would be open to all, whether or not it's the church you attend on a Sunday morning!

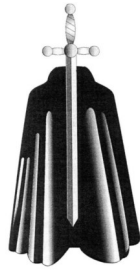

We already have the established pattern of monthly choral evensong services at St Martin's, with a growing congregation coming together to pray through the wonderful music, and with the timeless words of the Book of Common Prayer.

There's also a new monthly midweek Communion service, on a Thursday at 1:30 pm at St Paul's.

Other Sunday evening services are now being considered. Please let Timothy know what you think about these ideas, and do suggest others too if you have any!

- A monthly evening service at St Paul's, probably with a calm, reflective, meditative feel, using Taize chants.
- A monthly stand-alone service of prayers for wholeness and healing, at St Martin's.
